In recent years, 2 bowlers (20 somethings Osku Palerma, Finland and Jason Belmonte, Australia) with thumbless two-handed bowling styles have emerged as two of the most successful bowlers of our time. Accordingly, I present an analysis of the two-handed thumbless style that illustrates the most powerful style of bowling ever known. Youth bowlers as well as adults can learn something new about this unique style. The potential is incredible. In December 2006, Chaz Dennis (10 years, 2 months and 27 days) became the youngest bowler ever to shoot a 300 game approved by the United States Bowling Congress.
