In honor of the 50th anniversary of bowling in Ireland, the Irish Tenpin Bowling Association (ITBA) hired Coach Slowinski to develop a 4 Level Youth Development program. The program was unveiled on a training trip to Dublin in July at the first ever center in the country and the host of the first AMF World Cup in 1965, in Stillorgan. The program is based on fundamentals of human development, biomechanics, research and best practice and is designed to take beginning young players from scratch and facilitate the development of world class players.
